

PANKHURST SPEAKS AT MASS MEETING

Explains Why Militant Methods for Cause of Suffrage Are Followed in England

CRITICISES GOVERNMENT

Holds British Rule Responsible for Suffragettes Resorting to Violence to Obtain Ballot—Dynamic Means Necessary

DISCUSSES WHITE SLAVERY

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst tonight addressed in Madison Square Garden her first American mass meeting, explained why militant methods for the cause of woman suffrage are followed in England, but not in America, and defended the employment of such methods.

She criticized the British government as the most conservative on earth and held it responsible, through failure to enact legislation desired by women, for advocates of suffrage resorting to violence to obtain the ballot.

Dynamic Means Necessary.

Only through dynamic means, she declared, could English women hope to secure laws dealing with white slavery, industrial evils and other conditions affecting women.

Preparations had been made for an overflow meeting but the big hall with a seating capacity of about 12,000 persons was scarcely one-quarter filled. This was attributed by the suffragettes to the uncertainty existing until almost the eleventh hour as to whether the immigration authorities would allow Mrs. Pankhurst to land in this country.

Some leading suffragists of this country and a few "hunger strikers" sat with Mrs. Pankhurst on a stage draped with a tri-colored flag bearing the inscription, "Resistance to tyranny is obedience to God." Wearing small steel prison bar badges signifying that their militancy had resulted in jail terms, were Miss Elsie McKenzie and Miss Mary Keegan, English girls come here to accept business opportunities, and Miss Elizabeth Freeman, American girl who went to England to fight for "the cause."

American Leaders Present.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Miss Lavinia Beck, Miss Sybil Wilbur, Miss Albert A. Hill, Miss Fola LaFollette, Miss Ida Craft and other American suffragette leaders sat with them.

Mrs. Pankhurst was introduced by Charles Edward Russell, Socialist candidate for mayor. The audience, the majority of them women, made a demonstration lasting two minutes when the English militant leader tried to speak. Women stood on chairs and frantically waved handkerchiefs and yellow flags. Mrs. Pankhurst closed her eyes and waited for the enthusiasm to die away.

"I have been accustomed to pleading my own cases in England," Mrs. Pankhurst said. "I wanted to go to Washington and plead my own case there. I want to thank those who pleaded me before the public. I do not thank the Washington authorities and I do not think President Wilson wants to be thanked. He would say 'I did my duty.' I congratulate the American people who have officials in high places who perform their duties as they see them."

Persuasion and Argument Fail.
Women tried persuasion and argument in England, peaceful means that have been effective here, Mrs. Pankhurst said. These failing, violence became necessary.

"Nothing was ever got from an English parliament except through violence," she declared. "The machinery of the British government is an elaborate arrangement of how not to do anything."

"Whatever social legislation has been due to 'women's civil war' and much of it was granted to so often the spirit of the suffragettes."

The old age pension law, she declared, was granted to save Winston Churchill his seat in the cabinet. The names of Churchill, Asquith and Lord Lloyd-George evoked hissing. By nature law-abiding, hating violence and disorder, Mrs. Pankhurst said she had from the beginning felt absolutely guiltless for she believed there was no other way to secure women's rights.

"The women who have drawn the prizes in life's lucky bag are the ones who are waging this war," she said. "The women with good fathers, good husbands, good brothers, and who are engaged in useful industries. They are fighting for the women of all classes."

Discusses White Slavery.

Mrs. Pankhurst discussed equal suffrage and white slavery. White slavery she characterized as "more awful even than negro slavery in its worst form ever was in the United States."

"In white slavery are slaves of every color and they are all of one sex," she criticized England's dogging act providing punishment for white slave agents.

"Why don't they go to the seat of the evil," she said. "Why don't they punish the customers? With

SULZER DEPARTS FROM ALBANY IN SILENCE

GIVEN NOISY RECEPTION ON AR-RIVAL IN NEW YORK

Deposed Executive Declares He Has No Regrets and That Fight Has Just Begun—Dramatic Demonstration in Front of Tammany Hall.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 21.—William Sulzer tonight departed from Albany in silence. Not a friend outside of his official family accompanied him to the railroad station. Not a cheer greeted him as, with his hat drawn over his eyes and his chin buried in his overcoat collar, he walked slowly down the platform and boarded his car—by coincidence the "Empire State."

"I have no regrets," were his last words. "If I had everything to do over again I would do just as I have done. My fight has just begun."

Half a dozen of his advisers will follow him to New York tomorrow to aid him in starting his fight for the assembly.

Final plans for the campaign were drawn up tonight at the last meal the impeached governor ate in the executive mansion. Among his guests was John C. Garrison, who due to his criticism of some of the anti-Sulzer assemblymen, brought himself into contempt of the assembly and has spent the last month in the Albany county penitentiary. He was released today by Judge Cochran at Hudson into the custody of his counsel until next Friday. Garrison plans to participate in the Sulzer campaign if he is not remanded to prison.

Given Noisy Demonstration.
New York, Oct. 21.—William Sulzer got a noisy reception here tonight on his arrival from Albany. At the Grand Central station thousands had assembled to meet him and as he stepped from the train a volley of cheers and an ear-splitting noise from horns and other devices saluted him. Mr. Sulzer smiled as he struggled for a passageway through the crowd extending his hand at intervals to grasp that of a friend. The crowd hurried him from the waiting room into an automobile which escorted by other automobiles carrying hundreds of sympathizers, started downtown. Passing Tammany hall the procession stopped and traffic stood still while a dramatic demonstration ensued, one so serious that policemen came running to the scene to learn the cause. Crowds gathered. Francis men, Sulzer enthusiasts, leaped from their automobiles, ran to Tammany's doors and shook their clenched fists at the famous political headquarters. Mr. and Mrs. Sulzer glanced once at the building then turned their heads away, facing front until the demonstration ended and the cavalcade of cars moved on toward the sixth district where Sulzer has been nominated for assemblyman. Through the east side, people thronged fire escapes and roofs and hung over window sills shouting greetings to their assembly nominee. In front of Progressive headquarters where the demonstration reached its height, Mr. and Mrs. Sulzer stood up while the car rolled down the street.

Finally, to stop the noise, Mr. Sulzer stepped upon the seat and made a brief speech in which he denounced "the bosses" who, he declared, removed him because he refused to do their bidding.

VERA TCHEBERIAK CONTINUES PROMINENT FIGURE IN TRIAL

Declares She Was Promised Large Sum and Other Things if She Would Shoulder Responsibility
For Murder of Christian Boy.

Kiev, Oct. 21.—Vera Tchiberiak continues to be the most prominent figure in the trial of Mendel Bellis for the murder of Andrew Yushinsky, the Christian boy who was found killed in a cave in March, 1910. Martin Margolin, one of the prisoner's lawyers, was a witness today and discredited the story of an alleged offer of a reward but Vera Tchiberiak declared she had been promised $20,000, a foreign passport and other things if she would take the guilt of the murder on her shoulders.

The remainder of the day was devoted to a long examination of Ex-chief of Police Krassovsky, who had investigated the murder. He had compared the clay from the brick kiln with the splashes of clay on Yushinsky's clothes but found that they differed.

In fact, he said, in whatever direction he went his suspicions always reverted to Vera Tchiberiak. He said the Tchiberiak who died under suspicious circumstances fell ill just when they and other children were beginning to be questioned.

MINERS FOUND ALIVE.

Rockdale, Texas, Oct. 21.—Seven Mexican miners entombed since last Thursday in the Vogel & Lawrence Lignite workings here were found alive tonight when rescuers gained the mine interior by drilling a ninety foot shaft. The men were imprisoned by a caving following a cloud burst which flooded the mine.

KILLED PLAYING FOOTBALL.
Vermillion, S. D., Oct. 21.—Marcellus Dunlap, aged 13 years, a student of the schools here, was almost instantly killed while playing football during the recess today. In a rush for the ball the Dunlap boy is said to have fallen under several others, dying a few minutes later.

COOPERSTOWN, N. D., Oct. 21.—David Bartlett, for six years lieutenant governor of North Dakota, died today at Boston according to a telegram received here.

CUBAN SITUATION DISTURBS OFFICIALS

Congress Refuses to Convene In Extra Ordinary Session to Consider Proposed Loan

NO PROVISION FOR ARREST

While President Can Adjourn Congress He Cannot Dissolve Body—At Loss to Know
What Means Menocal Can Employ

DEEMS DRASTIC ACTION NECESSARY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—State department officials were concerned tonight over the situation which has arisen in Havana as a result of the refusal of the Cuban congress to convene in extraordinary session to consider the proposed foreign loan. There was much speculation as to what the executive can do if his congress continues to refuse to come together. President Menocal's call for the extraordinary session set Oct. 1st, as the day for the two bodies to convene, but postponement from time to time has been necessary owing to the continued refusal of liberals to appear. The presence of two thirds of both houses is required under the Cuban constitution in order to convene congress and there is no provision for the arrest of enough absentees to constitute a quorum as may be done under the American congress. Officials here are at a loss to know what means President Menocal can employ in carrying out the drastic action which his pronouncement indicates he deems necessary. While the Cuban president can adjourn congress, it was pointed out that he cannot dissolve that body and call for new elections and that the present congress was elected last April for two years.

No statement of the attitude of the American state department was made known, although the United States several months ago, under the authority vested in it by the Platte amendment received from President Menocal a request for permission to negotiate the loan and accede to the proposition.

Havana, Oct. 21.—Intense interest attaches to the probable effect of President Menocal's manifesto regarding the obstructionist policy of the liberals in preventing a quorum at the extraordinary session of congress, with the object of withholding authorization for a new loan of $15,000,000.

President Menocal in his manifesto points out the necessity of the loan and declares that he may be compelled to have recourse to extraordinary measures in the event of continued obstruction on the part of congress. The president does not say what course he has in mind, but the tone of his manifesto indicates that he considers some drastic action imperatively necessary. A majority of the newspapers accord to President Menocal the highest praise for his "patriotic action" and predict that the Cuban people will rally to his support. In political circles fears are expressed that the manifesto will not have the effect of compelling the attendance of a quorum and that there is also a possibility that the struggle may extend to the regular session, which will begin Nov. 3rd.

The executive committee of the party has agreed unanimously to approve the conduct of the senators and representatives who have failed to attend the sessions of congress on the ground that the presidential call was illegal, and has also appointed a committee to prepare a manifesto in reply to that issued by the president. The liberals express their determination to continue their obstructive tactics and defeat the loan.

While it is believed that President Menocal is without recourse in law to compel the attendance of the congressmen, it is said that he will make an announcement at an early date that continued opposition will promptly result in the charge of all liberal office holders. These include several congressmen holding political sine cures. By this means it is hoped to end the obstructive tactics.

TO ESTABLISH CONVICT ROAD
CAMP NEAR SPRINGFIELD

Warden of Joliet Wires Governor
That Convicts Can Be Furnished and Be at Work Within a Week.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 21.—In a reply to the governor's request that fifty or sixty convicts from the Joliet penitentiary be sent here to work on the hard road north of this city, Warden Edmund M. Allen of Joliet today wired Governor Dunne, stating that the convicts could be furnished and that arrangements can be made to have them here and at work within the next week.

This will make the third convict road camp to be established in Illinois. The first was located at Dixon and the second in Randolph county, near Chester penitentiary.

Arrangements will be made at once to establish a camp near the state biological laboratory, three miles north of the city.

COOPERSTOWN, N. D., Oct. 21.—David Bartlett, for six years lieutenant governor of North Dakota, died today at Boston according to a telegram received here.

REFERS TO "WEALTHY LOVER" IN EATON TRIAL

PROSECUTION INTRODUCES EVIDENCE
AS SHOWING POSSIBLE MOTIVE

Witness Testifies That Defendant Told Her of Chicago Man Who Wanted Her to Leave Her Husband—Did Not Disclose Name.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Oct. 21.—A reference to a "wealthy lover in Chicago" who wanted Mrs. Jennie May Eaton to leave her husband was introduced today by the prosecution as showing a possible motive in the trial of Mrs. Eaton charged with the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton.

The evidence was given in the testimony of Mrs. Marshall Bursey of Washington, D. C., who said that eight months before the death of the admiral Mrs. Eaton told her of the Chicago man and his proposal. According to Mrs. Bursey, Mrs. Eaton did not disclose to her the name of the alleged lover, but said that he owned much property and had promised to leave it all to her.

Mrs. Eaton told the witness that Admiral Eaton had attacked her several times at night and at one time she awoke to find him injecting medicine into her arm.

Mrs. Eaton also said, according to Mrs. Bursey, that she was going to have the admiral examined by an expert and if he was found to be insane have him put away.

During her stay in Washington, the witness said, Mrs. Eaton received much mail postmarked Chicago. How Mrs. Eaton tried to trail her husband's footsteps by scattering talcum powder on the attic stairs was described by Frank S. Booth, a Rockland optician.

"Mrs. Eaton told me that her husband had tried to poison her," testified Booth. "She said she thought he had hidden poison in the attic and that she had searched for it, but could not find any. When she told me she scattered talcum powder on the steps leading to the attic in the hope of tracing his footsteps, her trap failed."

District Attorney Barker said that the state will probably rest its case tomorrow after five more witnesses have been examined. The defense expects to occupy three or four days.

BANKERS' HEAD ALLEGES HE WAS DEFAUDED OF LARGE SUM

Arthur Reynolds Charges He Was
Defrauded of $10,000 in Sale of Fifty Shares of Stock in Des Moines Life Insurance Company.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 21.—In a suit filed here today, Arthur Reynolds, president of the American Bankers' association, alleges he was defrauded of $10,000 in the sale of fifty shares of stock in the Des Moines Life Insurance company.

Mrs. L. C. Rawson, widow of the former president, Wilmet Harbach, son-in-law, and Albert M. Johnson and the National Life Insurance are deferred in this action.

Mr. Reynolds said in his petition that previous to the sale of the stock to the Chicago company Mrs. Rawson called on him with a proposition to sell his stock at $200 a share. Acting on this information the plaintiff said he assigned his stocks to Mrs. Rawson at $200 a share or $10,000.

Mr. Reynolds later found out, so the petition states, that the defendants had transferred the stock to the National Life company for $1,000 a share and in addition had received $125,000 as commission and speculative profit on the transaction.

PUBLISHERS TO ORGANIZE THE GILT-EDGE LIST OF NEWSPAPERS

Proposed Organization Receives Endorsement of Illinois Daily Newspaper Association.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—The gilt-edge list of newspapers, an association of newspaper publishers will be organized at a meeting in Chicago in about two weeks. The proposed organization received the endorsement of the Illinois Daily Newspaper association at its annual meeting today.

The object of the association will be to place advertising on a more satisfactory basis, increase the volume in the daily papers and develop national and foreign advertising in the papers of members.

The endorsement of the Illinois publishers was given following an address by Jason Rogers, publisher of the New York Globe, who asserted he had 250 pledges for membership.

DUNNE DISCUSSES MINORITY PATRONAGE WITH ADVISER

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 21.—Minority patronage and a number of other matters were under discussion today at a conference between Governor Dunne and his political adviser, County Treasurer William O'Connell of Chicago.

This meeting followed the visit of Raymond Robins, chairman of the Progressive state central committee, with the governor.

Mr. Robins asked that all minority places go to Progressives.

It is said the governor is opposed to giving all places to the Progressives because these appointments might not receive legislative confirmation. It is very probable both parties will be recognized.

DIAZ WILL LAND IN VERA CRUZ TODAY

Order from Mexico City Says
That There Must Be No
Demonstration

SOLDIERS TO KEEP ORDER

Should Enthusiasm of Diaz Partisans Outweigh Their Judgement Troops and Police Have Orders to Shoot

PAGE DESCRIBES CONFERENCE

VERA CRUZ, Oct. 21.—Gen. Felix Diaz, candidate for the Mexican presidency, who is now on his way to Vera Cruz aboard the steamship Corcovado, will be permitted to land tomorrow morning. But there must be no demonstrations. This is the order received from the capital.

A small army of detectives is here from Mexico City and troops are held in quarters. Should the enthusiasm of the Diaz partisans outweigh their judgment and in the opinion of the authorities the peace of the city be thereby disturbed, the soldiers and police have orders to shoot.

Colonel Vidaurrazaga, secretary to General Blanquet, the minister of war, is aboard the gunboat Zaragoza. The gunboat has steam up and unless the orders are changed will run alongside the Corcovado before she docks. Colonel Vidaurrazaga will request General Diaz to counsel his partisans to maintain good order and in return for such a promise will assure General Diaz that he will receive guarantees for his protection.

The Corcovado is not expected to dock before morning. She is a German boat and following close behind is the German gunboat Hortha.

Not a very great number of partisans are expected to greet their chief. Those here are headed by Jose Luis Requena, candidate for the vice presidency. Senor Requena believes that the ticket will be withdrawn, but will have a conference with General Diaz tomorrow on the subject.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Dispatches were received at the state department today from Ambassador Page describing in detail his conference with Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign minister, concerning the attitude of Great Britain in Mexico.

The position of the British foreign office was explained by the ambassador substantially as indicated in the press dispatches from London. The American government it is known is not entirely pleased with the British government's policy, administration officials being particularly disappointed by the declaration of Sir Edward Grey that nothing thus far had occurred in Mexico to change the British view that recognition of Huerta was the correct policy.

The attitude of the administration here is that the forcible arrest of most of the members of the Mexican congress and the arbitrary assumption by General Huerta of the legislative as well as executive powers of the government, in themselves constitute acts which materially alter the state of affairs in Mexico.

The presentation of Sir Lionel Carden's credentials despite these occurrences is being interpreted by American officials notwithstanding the British explanation as a movement out of sympathy with the viewpoint of the United States. There were no developments in the situation as far as any new expression of policy. The cabinet discussed the subject briefly.

Vera Cruz, Oct. 21.—The candidacy of General Huerta and General Blanquet for the presidency and vice presidency, respectively, was proclaimed in unsigned handbills which were distributed here today. Adherents of General Diaz profess to have information that state officers throughout that part of the country have agreed to favor the Huerta-Blanquet ticket and consider it probable that Diaz will readily agree with them that under such circumstances competition would be useless.

FOUR KILLED BY TRAIN.

Chicago Junction, Ohio, Oct. 21.—Mrs. William Harwood, her two small sons, eight and three years old and her mother, Mrs. Frank Weeks of this place were instantly killed today, when a buggy in which they were riding was struck by a Baltimore and Ohio Express train. A freight obscured the approach of the express and when Mrs. Harwood drove on the track the accident resulted.

RECOMMENDS REMOVAL OF CLARK FROM HOME

OMO STATES PYTHIAN HOME SHOULD NOT BE RUN AS PENAL INSTITUTION

Superintendent Denies Charges and Says Matter Has Been Investigated —Committee Will Report Today—
Recommends $10,000 Aged Pythians' Home Building.

DECATUR, Ill., Oct. 21.—Grand Chancellor Omo of the Knights of Pythias caused a wave of excitement in the opening session of the Illinois Grand lodge here today when he stated in his annual report that the Pythian home in this city should not be run like a penal institution and recommended that Rev. and Mrs. Thornton Clark, superintendent and matron of the home, be dismissed.

Rev. Thornton Clark denied the charges, saying: "The whole matter was investigated several weeks ago by the home board and they found nothing. I have not been officially asked to resign."

In the afternoon session a special committee was appointed to consider the recommendations of the grand chancellor. This committee will report to the Grand lodge Wednesday. It is said that the charges brought against the superintendent are for political purposes.

The charges grew out of the punishment of a boy who left the home without permission. Investigation disclosed that the punishment was not severe.

The grand chancellor also recommended that the home for aged Pythians be erected on the forty acres on which the Orphans Home now is. He recommended a $10,000 building.

BRANDS OFFICIALS OF "GALESBURG REPUBLICAN CLUB" AS IMPOSTERS

Party Committeemen of Knox County
Disavow All Connection With Lorimer's Campaign.

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 21.—Branding officials of the so-called Galesburg Republican club which sent out petitions asking William Lorimer to run again for United States senator as imposters if they claim to represent the Republican party of Galesburg committeemen of Knox county today disavowed all connection with Lorimer's campaign and repeated pledges of allegiance to Lawrence Y. Sherman.

"Galesburg Republicans are not for Lorimer," said Max J. Mack, chairman of the county Republican central committee. "We have been misrepresented by a small faction of Lorimerites who supported Small for governor last fall."

The Lorimer petitions were sent from this city Oct. 18 by the "Galesburg Republican club." Oscar Thorelius, president; John Larson, vice president; A. B. Pierson, secretary.

Mr. Thorelius who runs a drug store here, said today: "We sent out about 1,000 petitions and have already received some back filled with names. Lorimer did not ask us to do it. We believe he was wrong and want to help him come back."

JOLIET MAN SUICIDES AFTER FAILING IN THREE ATTEMPTS

Unsuccessful In Effort To End Life
By Razor, By Drowning and By Poison, Man Throws Self Under Train.

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 21.—William House committed suicide today by throwing himself under a fast passenger train after he had failed in three previous attempts to end his life, once by a razor, by drowning and by poison.

House swallowed poison early in the day but was revived by a physician. He walked to the Illinois and Michigan canal and plunged into the water but was forcibly withdrawn. He was then taken home and after changing his clothes, slashed his throat with a razor. His father knocked him down and saved him.

An hour later House slipped away and threw himself under a train. He was to have been married Friday.

JUDGE DISMISSES T. E. WATSON CASE

Holds Indictment Charging the Sending of Obscene Matter
Through Mails Was Illegal

LARGE CROWD AT SESSION

Court Orders Dismissal of Case Solely Upon the Contention Raised by Watson Himself, "Entire Article Should Be Included"

THE GOVERNMENT CAN RE-INDICT

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 21.—Holding that the indictment charging Thomas E. Watson, editor, author and once presidential candidate of the Populist party, with sending obscene matter through the mails, was illegal, Federal Judge Rufus E. Foster today ordered the case thrown out of court.

In sustaining the motion of the defense to quash the indictment made yesterday Judge Foster brought the trial to an abrupt and unexpected close.

A large audience attended today's session and when the judge announced his ruling, the spectators broke into cheering. Judge Foster ignored this demonstration, which quickly subsided.

Watson's Contention Wins.

It was solely upon the contention raised by Watson himself that the court ordered the case dismissed. Extended argument on the motion had been made by S. G. McLendon, of defendant's counsel when the defendant asked permission to present "other phases of the matter."

Watson addressed the court briefly, laying stress upon his claim that the indictment should not select certain passages of the article written by him but should include the entire matter. He said that unless this were true it would be possible to indict persons mailing copies of the Bible or the criminal code of Georgia.

Argument against the motion by District Attorney Alexander Ackerman was brief and limited to a defense of the government's position that the indictment need merely indicate the alleged obscene passages and not the entire article.

In announcing his decision Judge Foster said: "It appears in this indictment, in all three counts, that the publication alleged to have been sent through the mails in violation of the law is an extract from a complete article. It is clearly my opinion that the government is required to plead the entire article. The article is obscene as a whole or is not obscene and we cannot take out a few paragraphs here and there under the law. It may be that a paragraph here and there is sufficient to impress the whole publication with obscenity, but the defendant isn't charged with sending the complete."

Publication Is an Entire Thing.

"The publication is an entire thing. It is not a part or extract. We will be able to indict anyone on the theory. We might take the episode of Potshar's wife or the relations of Onan to his brother's widow or something of that sort and indict just as well."

"I am not pretending to rule on any other feature of this indictment. The question of whether it is obscene if set out in dead language is not passed upon. On this view I will sustain the motion to quash."

"It is possible for the government to re-indict and make these entire articles part of the indictment."

What course the United States district attorney will pursue still is in doubt, as he has refused so far to discuss the matter.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Julius Rosenwald, wife of a millionaire philanthropist here, received a letter, the writer of which said it had been exposed to mysterious disease germs, according to Chief Inspector Stewart tonight.

BIDS OPEN FOR EIGHTH GRADE BUILDING

FIGURES GIVEN FOR COMPLETE STRUCTURE AND ON OTHER BASIS.

Five General Contractors Make Bids Which For the Completed Building Except Plumbing and Heating Are About $50,000—Board Will Meet Today to Let Contract.

The board of education met in adjourned session last evening with all members present. Mayor George W. Davis presiding. The object of the meeting was stated to be the opening and discussion of bids for the new eighth grade building. A motion was made that they be opened.

Member Hall asked if the finance committee had any report to make on the finances and what would be done in case the bids exceeded the amount on hand.

Member Bavington said they had no report to make and Members Wells and Bavington both remarked that no bids could be let for a greater sum than the amount of cash on hand.

There were two sets of bids. The first were for the building complete and the second for the building inclosed. Five general contractors presented figures.

Then in addition there were eleven additional features optional with the board and they were as follows:

Schedule of Proposals.
1. Building proper, as per general plans and specifications for the complete building.
2. Alternate bid for making inside course of all outside walls of vitrified hollow brick of approved make.
3. Alternate bid for substitution of terra cotta for certain members of stone work, as shown by details on architect's supplementary sheet and all corner blocks shown stone in brick panels and soldier courses, or, give bid for substitution of terra cotta for all stone work, except entrance, base of building and first story sill course, all terra cotta being furnished and secured by all necessary anchors, complete.

4. Alternate bid for fireproof corridor floors in all second and third floor corridors, the same to be of hollow tile and reinforced concrete joist construction (Kahn system, or equal), floors to be capable of supporting 100 lb. live load per sq. ft., same to include all necessary reinforced concrete girders to support floors where needed, except those in connection with stairs.

5. ## BLOODHOUNDS FAIL TO LOCATE STORE BURGLARS

Thieves Who Entered Establishment of F. J. Kaiser in Alexander Could Not Be Located—Considerable Merchandise Taken.

After a hunt of six or eight hours bloodhounds failed to locate the thieves who entered the general merchandise store of F. J. Kaiser in Alexander sometime Monday night, and secured a quantity of goods. The dogs were sent for from Springfield, as soon as Mr. Kaiser learned of the theft. Mr. Stumpher, arrived about 10 o'clock and a scent took the dogs north and east, through a timber on the Springfield road and again north, where the scent was lost. It was thought that at this point the parties might have entered an automobile. The dogs were again brought to the store and another scent was started which lead south, came back to the railroad and there stopped. It is thought perhaps the men might have boarded a passing train.

Entrance was made to the store through the door on the south side to the building. The fire door was first pried open and the glass to the inner door broken, after that entrance was easy. The thieves made a search about the office, took a .32 calibre revolver from the desk drawer, a large quantity of cartridges, several gold filled watches, two of which were Elgin makes, large quantity of cigars, gloves, several razors and in fact it was hard to calculate just how much they had taken. They enjoyed a lunch as eatables were scattered about the store. The safe was untouched, which served as an excuse to think the burglars were novices.

The evening before the theft, there were two strange men in the store, who remained a little time and only made small purchases and it is thought they might have been the guilty ones. About ten months ago the store was burglarized and again about two years ago. It was for this reason that Mr. Kaiser secured the bloodhounds.

EXPLAINS BANKER'S DISAGREEMENT WITH GLASS-OWEN CURRENCY BILL

E. E. Crabtree Discusses Difficult Question at Meeting of State Street Brotherhood.

The control of twenty-two billion dollars by a politically appointed board of seven men, the provision that national banks submit to the new law or dissolve and the great powers which would be exercised by men without banking experience, are among the reasons why the bankers of America oppose the Glass-Owen currency bill, now before Congress, explained E. E. Crabtree, vice-president of the banking firm of F. G. Farrell & Co., at the fall meeting Tuesday evening of the Brotherhood of State Street Presbyterian church. Mr. Crabtree's discussion of the bill followed an excellent supper served by the ladies of the church and the election of new officers by the brotherhood. The speaker has good command of the subject matter of the federal reserve act and familiarity with the opinions of leading bankers throughout the country. While in the east recently he attended a convention of the American Bankers' Association and secured much valuable information on the proposed revolution in the country's monetary system. After his address he was tendered the thanks of the men present by a rising vote.

For fifty years bankers have agreed that currency reform and more adequate supervision of banking was needed but little has been done toward working out a system of government control or the securing of a more elastic currency. By the Glass-Owen bill already passed by the house and under consideration by the senate, there would be established at least twelve federal regional reserve banks, which, by means of their power of rediscounting commercial paper presented them by the various national banks, could furnish these banks a supply of currency in accord with their needs, when money is plentiful as well as in seasons of panic or financial stringency. Although the advantages of an automatic elastic currency are admitted by all, the present bill, the bankers of the country think, has faults which would make it a danger rather than a benefit.

It would be easy for partisanship to enter into the control of the reserve banks. Two members of the supervising federal reserve board would be cabinet officers and a third would be controller of the currency, all presidential appointive positions. The four remaining members, also appointed by the president would be chosen from different parties. The bill requires but one of the entire seven members to be an experienced banker, only one man of experience to control the reserve banks, to decide on the rate of discount and the class of paper to be accepted by the reserve banks. Each national bank would have to subscribe 20 per cent of its capital as capital for reserve banks and maintain an untouchable surplus of 5 per cent of its total deposits. To Jacksonville this would mean the subscription of $180,000 of capital to the regional reserve bank of Jacksonville, of $100,000, the 5 percent of the deposits of the two national banks for the permanent reserve. An additional disadvantage would be the enforced separation of the regular business of the banks from the savings departments. Should the bill pass, the national bankers would have to accept its terms or surrender their charter after a year.

The New Officers.
The officers of the brotherhood for next year as elected at the banquet last evening are:
President—J. B. Seibert.
Vice-president—Julius C. Strawn.

no demand there will be no traffic. Give the women the opportunity to frame the legislation and there will be no white slavery. The government of the country is the biggest white slavery firm we have."

Mrs. Pankhurst answered American critics who have said she came on a money-making mission. Benjamin Franklin went to France for aid for the American revolution, she reminded, and Irish law-breakers came here to gather money to carry on their campaign, and the Americans responded, she continued, "why should I not come to ask help? What helps women in England will help women all over the world."

Critics Militant Methods.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 21.—The militant methods of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst were criticised by Rev. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National Woman's Suffrage association, in an address before the Just Government league here this afternoon. Dr. Shaw made it clear, however, that her disapproval rested chiefly on grounds of expediency.

"If I thought I could get the ballot for the women of this country by going out and smashing mail boxes I would do it," Dr. Shaw said. "If a government does not stand for what is good and just it should be overthrown by any means. But whenever women attempt to use physical force they are at a disadvantage."

Dr. Shaw said Mrs. Pankhurst was an example of consecration and devotion to a cause that had been rarely equalled but she believed the English woman had injured woman suffrage in England and hindered it in this country.

Willard Must Face Trial For Breaking Prize-Fighting Law

Judge Craig Denies Motion To Set Aside Informations—Denies Sparring Match.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 21.—Jess Willard, heavyweight prize-fighter and ten others of the twelve concerned in the bout in which John Y. Young was fatally injured at Vernon arena, August 22nd, must stand trial for alleged violation of the state law prohibiting prize-fighting. Eddie Webster, a second in the fight was discharged on the ground he had not figured prominently in the affair.

Judge Gavin Craig of the criminal department of the superior court overruled today the demurrer the defendant had entered to the complaint filed against them and denied their motion to set aside the informations.

These eleven men were arraigned, pleaded not guilty and their trial set for January 7th, next.

In overruling the demurrer, Judge Craig gave a definition of a sparring match. He said: "A sparring match is one in which two persons attempt, through skill and science to strike each other and to avoid being struck, but in which there is no attempt to inflict serious injury and in which the incentive to win is not through a 'knockout' but through skill in boxing."

STATE I. O. O. F. MEETING IN SPRINGFIELD.

The grand lodge and state encampment and the Rebekah assembly will be held in Springfield Nov. 17 and the city is making big preparations to entertain the visitors.

Governor Dunne is to make the welcoming address and Judge J. Otis Humphrey will preside at the meeting. A big fight in the convention is expected when an effort will be made to provide for a majority vote for the location of the state meeting, whereas a two-thirds vote is now required. Among the present officers whose terms will expire are John E. Jennings, Sullivan, grand master; George B. Roller, Canton; grand patriarch, and Ella O. Johnson of Galatia, head of the Rebekah organization.

Procrastination

Nowhere is the consequence of procrastination more disastrous than in the making of wills. Most of us conduct our financial affairs as if we were to control them indefinitely.

Then suddenly we are taken and some one is placed in charge of our estate whose particular business is to "close up" our estate quickly as required by law, whereas men frequently leave property which requires time and attention to preserve its value. Again perhaps some member of the family needs special provision.

The law which takes charge of an estate where the decedent left no will is a cast-iron affair built to meet general conditions and was never designed to meet particular cases. It could not be.

The law permits one by a will the widest liberty in directing the handling and distribution of his estate. One should write his plans and wishes into a will, choose an executor of approved capacity and responsibility and tell that executor the things he wants accomplished with his estate.

Your judgment tells you this should be done.

No doubt you have resolved to do it—sometime.

Delay in making a will has all too often left a family without proper protection and frequently has resulted in serious financial loss, needless litigation or great annoyance. You know this.

We will draw your will for you. Consult us in absolute confidence and without cost. Tell us what you want your estate to do and we will help you write your wishes into a will. Do it now.

Jacksonville Railway & Light Co.

THE JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL
Established 1843
Published by
JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL CO.

The statement made by the Protective Association that sixty per cent of the people of Jacksonville drink liquors can not be proven, neither are the figures reasonable. If so large a percentage of the people do drink it does not seem likely that for three successive elections a majority of the male voters would cast ballots in favor of local option.

The argument that it is better to have open saloons where drinking may be done in the open light of day, rather than in private is directly opposed to one of the main tenets of local option advocates. If men must and will drink, local option supporters believe that it is better that they do it privately where their actions are not an example to the young and where there is not the temptation to excess that exists in the saloons with its conviviality and treating features.

This is not a time for poetry perhaps, but nevertheless Alexander Pope had some mighty good ideas about this matter of parading wickedness when he wrote:

"Vice is a monster of so horrible a mien
That to be hated needs but to be seen.
But seen too oft, familiar with its face;
We first pity, then endure and then embrace."

The regulated saloon, that is the well regulated saloon, where law is constantly observed, has been talked about for decades and longer. But did anybody ever hear of the existence of such a saloon? Has anybody ever seen one? It would be just as reasonable to expect that if saloons are returned to Jacksonville this fall that each morning they will open with a prayer and close at night with the Doxology, as to expect strict observance of a stringent law.

A CLUB WOMAN'S VIEW.

Editor Journal:
During the war of the American Revolution, England not having enough of her own soldiers to conquer and subjugate the valiant and freedom-loving colonists, hired regiments of soldiers from the province of Hesse in Germany to fight the American Revolutionists. These hired Hessians were so obnoxious and hateful to the colonists, that for scores of years afterwards to call a man a Hessian was to call him a name of deepest obloquy and reproach.

For the hired embassy of the saloon to come to Jacksonville and declare, thru the paid advertisements in the papers that "the great majority of our people are keeping such beverages," that there is quite as much being drank as at any time in the history of the city; and "that there is more drunkenness than formerly" is to insult the decent, clean intelligent citizens who have voted three times to keep the saloon out of Jacksonville. This insult is the more offensive because it comes from one who is not a citizen and who knows little or nothing of true conditions in Jacksonville.

In his statement that the Bible stands for saloons as they have been in this and other communities, this man either shows his lamentable ignorance, or he is trying to deceive and mislead. The references are too numerous to quote. Two are enough: "Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink," Habakkuk 2-15, and "Woe to him that buildeth a city with blood and stablisheth a city by iniquity," Habakkuk 2-12.

The women's clubs of this city are too well informed and intelligent to be misled by any so-called "welfare expert." Welfare means "well-doing or well-being; prosperity; happiness" and no man can make the club-women of Jacksonville think he stands for that, if he is an advocate of the saloon.

GEORGE TANDY MAKES FIRST TEAM AT UNIVERSITY.

George W. Tandy, who is a student at the Chapel Hill university at Chapel Hill, North Carolina, is making a good record in football this season. He was picked out of eight candidates for the position of center on the first team of the university and there were 125 candidates for different positions of the squad. Coach Trenchard stated he picked the Jacksonville athlete because of his speed, weight and fighting spirit. He said he could also be used either as a tackle or at end. For a freshman to make the first team is quite a honor. The U. has played four games this season and not lost one. On Nov. 1 they play Athens, Ga., and Mr. Tandy's father, who is traveling in that part of the country, expects to see the contest.

MISS LATHBURY DIES.

Orange, N. J., Oct. 21.—Miss Mary A. Lathbury, writer of many familiar hymns, author of books for children, artist and social worker, died today at her home in East Orange. Miss Lathbury co-operated with Rev. Edward Everett Hale in the organization of "ten times ten" clubs and with Bishop John H. Vincent, father of the chautauqua movement in his work for that organization. She was 72 years old.

THE TWO BARONS.

They Had a Trying Time in the Royal Court of Bulgaria.

Till he left the royal court of Bulgaria in disgrace some time ago old Baron Eckdorffstein, the princes' over-governor, gave the royal children more fun than anybody. He was a rigid, fidgety old Prussian, always complaining. In the early part of last year, under the plea that his neighbor, Baron Bernsdorff, snored so loud that he could not sleep, he changed his rooms from the wing to the main body of the palace, much to the disgust of the princes, who determined to get rid of him.

They soon hit on a plan. His new quarters were so far from the telephone that he had to pass many corridors and cross a large hall to get to it. One morning he got so urgent a call that he hastened out in his pajamas. On his way back he found the way stopped. Each corridor and stairway held a sentry, who solemnly declared his royal highness the crown prince had given orders that nobody was to pass.

The princes themselves guarded two exits, and the poor old baron spent an awful quarter of an hour rushing wildly about the large hall and dodging behind pillars when a minister passed through on his way to the king. The suit, bearing roars of laughter, came to look and laugh.

The joke worked so well that the baron petitioned the king to go back to his old quarters that very day. But he grew crustier and crustier. The crisis was reached when, furious that a reception was going on in the palace when he wanted to sleep, he rose, locked all the dressing room doors and took the keys to his room. Some of the household gave him a good shaking. The king heard of it and sent him off on unlimited leave.

In the meantime Baron Bernsdorff, whom Eckdorffstein had got in disgrace by the reports of his outrageous snoring, had had no summons to go to the king for weeks and weeks and was getting quite uneasy, as the man who does not enjoy royal conversation frequently soon loses prestige at court. But at last a gendarme came and told him he was not to stir from his rooms that day, as the king might want him.

Bernsdorff waited and waited. At last, three weeks later, somebody mentioned his name before the king, who exclaimed, "Good heaven, I told him to wait in for me three weeks ago!" He sent and found the poor old Prussian still waiting. Through three weeks of glorious Balkan spring weather he had not dared leave his rooms.—Harper's.

Cheerfulness.

We ought to be as cheerful as we can if only because to be happy ourselves is a most effectual contribution to the happiness of others.—Lord Avebury.

Trapping a Dean.

Mr. Frederic Harrison tells the following story of Dr. Gaisford, once dean of Christ Church college, Oxford, a typical "head" of the old school, whose autocratic disposition did not escape the notice of his pupils. A student of the house, in spite of formal orders of the tutors that no undergraduate should have leave to attend the Derby, succeeded in getting it by telling Dr. Gaisford that his tutor had declared that not even the dean himself could break the college rule. "What?" said the dean. "They tell you I cannot give leave? I give you leave, sir—and report this order to your tutor?"

Didn't Want the Landscape.

Thomas J. Pence, who pulled off a prize piece of work in managing President Wilson's campaign publicity work, dropped into a restaurant in Washington one evening and ordered a water-cress sandwich.

The waiter set it before him, the slices of bread being cut very thick and the supply of watercress enormous.

GAZED ON THE SANDWICH IN SADNESS. Pence gazed on the sandwich in sadness and silence for at least five minutes.

"Waiter," he said at last in a suave tone, "when I order a watercress sandwich it doesn't necessarily mean that I wish a meadow concealed between two loaves of bread."—Washington Star.

Wasn't Like Sargent After All.

Once when John S. Sargent, the famous painter, was at a banquet a young lady whom he knew very well said to him, "Oh, Mr. Sargent, I saw your latest painting and kissed it because it was so much like you."

"And did it kiss you in return?"

"Why, no."

"Then," said Mr. Sargent, "it was not like me."

Have You Seen the Capps Indian Blanket Novelty Coats in Our Windows and on Display Inside?

These loose, warm, woolly, perfect fitting garments are the sensation of the season. Lovers of outdoor sports and pastimes say they are the most sensible fad ever started and that their popularity is certain to increase.

They follow the original designs of Capps genuine Indian blankets. Some of the patterns are quiet and subdued, others as "loud" (and as harmonious) as Sousa's brass band. You will be glad to see them. You will enjoy snuggling into their wonderful "comfortableness." Men's styles made in Norfolk style only. All have shawl collars and roomy patch pockets. Women's styles made in Norfolk and plain, with sleeves and shoulder, slightly narrower than men's styles and cut in a little at the waist.

CONGREGATIONALISTS TO MEET IN KANSAS CITY

Triennial Sessions of National Council Will Begin Today—New Constitution Proposed.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 21.—All arrangements have been completed for the reception and entertainment of the delegates to the triennial session of the National Council of Congregational churches, which commences here tomorrow. The delegates include many of the divines, educators and business men of the country. There are also delegates from Canada, Australia and Great Britain, together with missionaries of the denomination from all parts of the pagan world. Talks with the delegates already on the field give abundant evidence of a general expectation that the convention is destined to be the most important in the history of the church.

A new constitution, containing a new statement of doctrine, will be one of the first and principal matters to be considered by the national council. If the constitution, to be voted on, is adopted by the council, which thus far has been purely an administrative body, will have its powers vastly increased. The constitution to be presented to the convention has been in process of construction for several years. The final draft, composed by a commission of nineteen members of the council, contains the following statement of doctrine, which is understood to be an adequate expression of the Congregational faith:

"We believe in God, the Father, infinite in wisdom, goodness and love; and in Jesus Christ, His Son, Our Lord and Savior, who for us and for our salvation lived and died, and liveth evermore; and in the Holy Spirit, who taketh of the things of Christ and revealeth them to us, renewing, comforting and inspiring the souls of men.

"We are united in striving to know the will of God as taught in the Holy Scriptures, and in our purpose to walk in the ways made known or to be made known to us. We hold it to be the mission of the Church of Christ to proclaim the Gospel to all mankind, exalting the worship of the one true God and laboring for the progress of knowledge, the promotion of justice, the triumph of peace, and the realization of human brotherhood.

"Depending, as did our fathers, upon the continual guidance of the Holy Spirit to lead us into all truth, we work and pray for the transformation of the world into the Kingdom of God, and we look with faith for the triumph of righteousness and for life and glory everlasting. Amen."

It is proposed to create a secretary of the council with large advisory powers. A committee to transact the business of the denomination between sittings of the council is to be considered. This committee, it is said, will not trespass on the authority of the local church. A commission of missions is proposed to consider some method for an effective supervision of the six denominational benevolences. Another question of moment to be considered at this gathering is that of theological seminaries. Congregationalists have at present but three ministers in traditional ways, at Atlanta, Ga., Bangor, Me., and Chicago. An effort may be made to question which may cause considerable discussion is the proposition of holding the meetings of the national council every two years, instead of every three years as it has been customary.

Much interest is manifested in the coming election of a moderator and a secretary of the national council. There are several candidates for each office and the outcome of the election is awaited with considerable interest by Congregationalists throughout the country. Among the principal candidates for the moderatorship are President Henry Churchill King of Oberlin college, former Mayor D. Percy Jones of Minneapolis, Minn.; Rev. Dr. Charles S. Mills of Montclair, N. J.; Governor Baldwin of Connecticut and Rev. Dr. Samuel H. Woodrow, now president of the Congregational Home Missionary society.

The principal candidates mentioned for the secretaryship are Rev. Dr. W. H. Day, pastor the First Church of Los Angeles, Calif.; Rev. Dr. William L. Barton of Chicago, now active in Congregational journalism; Rev. Dr. Edward Lincoln Smith, lately of Seattle, but now with the American board, and Rev. Dr. Hubert C. Herring of the Home Missionary society.

The office of secretary, which is important as it is now, will be even more important if some proposed changes in the constitution are made, because under the new plan the powers of the secretary will be greatly enlarged and he will be made chairman of the proposed missions commission.

KILL CATARRH GERM USE BOOTH'S HYOMEI

Try the sure and most effective way to reach the raw, tender inflamed mucous membrane infested with catarrh germs—Breathe Hyomei. All druggists sell it.

You cannot reach the nooks and crevices of the breathing organs with liquid preparations; there is only one way—breathe a few times daily the germ-destroying air of Booth's Hyomei. It acts directly on the inflamed membranes and destroys the catarrh germs.

If you suffer from offensive breath, raising of mucus, frequent sneezing, husky voice, discharge from the nose, droppings in the throat, spasmodic coughing, or any other symptoms of catarrh, use Hyomei at once. It will destroy the disease germs in the nose, throat and lungs, and give quick and permanent relief, or money refunded.

The complete outfit including pocket inhaler and bottle of liquid costs $1.00, extra bottles of liquid if later needed, 50 cents.

FIRST OF SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLIES AT EBENEZER

Notwithstanding the chilly, blustering day Monday quite a number of workers greeted the Sunday school specialists at Ebenezer church, where the first of the institutes was held. Not a more beautiful country church is anywhere to be found and the people gathered were those that were there for business and to get the very best methods possible, methods for the advancement of the work. The people were kind and appreciative, the kind that make Sunday school specialists do their very best. Miss Faris gave an address on the work of the elementary department, N. H. Crain on the graded lesson, and W. H. Crum on special days and their value. A most excellent supper was served in the basement of the church. At the evening session Miss Faris again spoke, pointing out the ways in which the Cradle Roll might be made to serve the church. Philip Read and Dr. C. E. Harris of Jacksonville rendered two delightful duets. The county officers are expectant of much good from this institute.

Miss Faris and Mr. C. L. DePew went to Woodson, where Miss Faris will take up the work in elementary department, while Mr. DePew will take up the work in the teachers' training, adult department and the teen age department. On Wednesday the workers go to Murrayville. Miss Faris and Mr. DePew, together with Rev. Mr. Coleman, will present the work. We especially urge that all Sunday school teachers be present at these institutes as they are held in your precincts and come prepared to give as well as to get.

FOOTBALL ROMANCE LEADS TO ALTAR.

New York, Oct. 21.—A romance beginning on a trans-Atlantic liner and having a second chapter at a college football game culminated in the Little Church Around the Corner today, when Miss Belle Van Gelder, daughter of a former prominent railroad official, became the bride of William D. Thomas of Evanston, Ill. While a sophomore at Dickinson College several years ago Mr. Thomas went to Europe on a cattle boat and returned on a liner as captain's messenger. Miss Van Gelder and her parents were on the return ship and the two became acquainted. Later the young woman attended the football game in Philadelphia between the University of Pennsylvania and Dickinson College teams. Young Thomas was one of the Dickinson ends and scored the only touchdown that his team made that day. But in doing so he was seriously injured and was taken to the hospital, where he was nursed by his future bride, who had seen and applauded his brilliant play.

TAKING CARE OF ONE'S SELF

Even Temper and Modest Career Will Bear Good Fruit in Character and Happiness.

Ohio State Journal: Again, by actual incident, we are taught the lesson that any young man's love of pleasure and display must be constantly watched and guarded. There is no safety otherwise. It would be better that he practiced the simple life heroically, made it his pride and his glory to like the quiet, wholesome necessities of life, that he build his manhood on his self-denial rather than his self-indulgence.

Let a young man save a part of what he earns even if he has to eat plain food and wear cheap clothes; for then he is laying up capital for himself, not in money only but in character, in happiness, in future prosperity. This garish and luxurious life for a young man, this undue liking for gay and hilarious company, should be shunned as a den of snakes. A young man cannot be too strict in fashioning his life. There is such a thing as learning to like an even temper and modest career, and such a course will always bear good fruit.

(ADVERTISEMENT) A QUESTION OF MORALS

It has been insisted repeatedly that the paramount question in the present campaign is one of morals. We accept this as a fact, and it is on this ground that we demand a return to license. In one party gathered around a keg of beer on Saturday night recently, there were eleven young men; none of them over 19 years of age, and the youngest was 16. This was held in a vacant lot within two blocks of the city square. In a home in another part of town were nine men, a man and his wife and seven children, a typical case of the home party, now common in this city. On Sunday night a prominent business man was accosted on West State street by a bootlegger, who offered to sell him a drink of whisky. This bootlegger said that he made his trips regular to Peoria for his customers in this city. The people who live north of town have been obliged every Sunday morning, from the first of May until now to drive to church through numbers of keg parties who were making the day hideous with their noise. The demoralizing effect of these practices is far worse than ever existed at any time in this city. We are free to admit that there will always be some abuse, whether people get their drink in one way or another. But we contend that under regulation the homes and the morals of our boys and girls will not be menaced as they are at present. We repeat what we have said before many times; that where a large number of the people use intoxicating drinks as they do here, it is better for the morals of the community to keep these things away from the homes and the young people and to operate them in plain view of the public at all times.

The condition is not much different in this respect than in many other so-called dry towns. Over in a Missouri town four boys ranging from 12 to 15 years of age were found intoxicated; the preachers became indignant and insisted that the sheriff should investigate. He did so, and found that the boys were not getting their whisky from the drug-gist or from the bootlegger; but had sent to Cincinnati and bought it by the case. Yes, indeed, it is a question of morals. And if the women who are so anxious to keep this city in anti-saloon territory would look over the freight receipts, they would be surprised to find how many minors get like the above in this and every other city where instead of license the intolerable conditions above described exist. Before this campaign is over we expect to furnish a few interesting photographs that will tell their own story.

This city has a few people who are prejudiced in this matter. These we do not hope to change. The blind followers of religious leaders, the uninformed club women through fear keep silent; will no saloon territory. But the people, think for themselves and have the ment (and they are the majority), owe it to themselves, their neighbors, and the city to drive out this courage the holding of keg parties check the tendency of our young they have during the past summer; power to license a reasonable number of well conducted public bars. With all that can be said against the the present wild methods ever existed. They are practicing deceit and lawlessness instead of honesty and upright citizenship. While we may not save many of the boys and years acquired these habits; we may, and we ought to prevent a recurrence of these things. Manhood and womanhood cannot be built upon deceit. We expect the home, the school and the church to teach truth. The latter has been dragged to its job and the school is bearing in business to make money; and the right and difficult to do wrong. The process. We commend these facts to the men and women of this city who are charged with the responsibility of regulating all our civic affairs for the best good of the entire city.

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES.

There is evidence in plenty that Ad Wolgast has "run out" in his match with Charley White. He has skipped his camp near Milwaukee and is now at his home in U'dillac. It is doubtful whether the state boxing commission can legally send one of its sergeants to the auto manufacturing village to examine the welching Ad. It is a well known fact that the former lightweight champion is not at all hungry for any of Charley White's game at this time, and the broken rib frame-up has been used as the best and the easiest means to effect a "crawl" out of the meeting. The Wisconsin boxing authorities, in a measure, are much to blame for this "blow" of the four-flushing Wolgast. When they consented to let down the gates and permitted that Bat Nelson-Wolgast go at Milwaukee, they notified the boxing world that they had washed away the sins of the past against the game, and now at the first opportunity Wolgast "throws the books into them" in return for their generosity. An ingrate born an ingrate always will be.

His teammates in the New York club have not made the divvy of the world's series to the liking of Larry McLean. Merkle, who apportioned the money, placed big Larry upon an equal footing with the bat boy and handed each $500. McLean is "shouting his head off" and using all sorts of threats. The balance of the team only chuckle. It is perhaps just as well for Larry. It will not take the time to spend $500 that it would to consume $2,000, and he will have more sober time upon his hands in time to prepare for next year's campaign.

The scouting committee, Comiskey, Ban Johnson and Clark Griffith, were unable to locate George McBride at his home in Milwaukee Monday. All kinds of inducements have been made the Washington captain to accompany the barnstormers around the world, but he will have none of it. McBride has a lucrative business in the beer town and will take no chances of putting it out of commission for baseball in the winter time, when he learned that the committee were on the road leading to Milwaukee in an effort to get him to change his mind, he took to the tall and uncut and went into hiding, and will remain there until distance separates himself and his seekers.

Umpire Bill Klem has joined Mugsy McGraw, Tom Lynch and Ban Johnson in the fight to continue the world's series. Catfish Bill says these after-season games are a grand thing for baseball. From Bill's standpoint they are a super-grand thing. While McGraw remains at the head of the Giants and retains his "pull" at National league headquarters Klem can bank upon one of the jobs as umpire in these series, and this little extra income will add $1,000 to his salary, besides first-class hotel accommodations and traveling expenses. And Bill just dotes upon all of these little extras. He is now enjoying one of them, to last until next March. McGraw named him as the National league umpire to accompany the barnstormers around the circle.

The Methodist conference of Ohio and Indiana are about to adopt the methods of the major leagues in order to make certain that the forthcoming convention will be a success. Bishop William F. Anderson at Indianapolis on Tuesday delivered the following before a conference of the churchmen:

"We are told that the science of baseball is the most perfect in existence. This only goes to show what may be done with the continued effort and unity of action. We men of the Methodist church must adopt the methods of the major leagues and work in unity with a certain aim in view. Our aim, as in baseball, should be to win and we will win if you men will go into this game with the determination with which a professional baseball player enters a game of baseball."

Connected with the dairy show to be held in Chicago this week will be a carnival of athletics. Stars from all sections of this country and Canada will be seen in competition. The colleges also will be well represented. Yale, Harvard, Cornell, Northwestern, Chicago, Purdue, Illinois university and other colleges are expected to send full teams for the games.

SOX TIE SCORE IN SIXTH AND HAMMER OUT VICTORY IN EIGHTH

A Double, Single, Triple and Two Singles Net Hose Three Runs and Give Them Game, 6 to 4.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 21.—Tying the score in the sixth inning with a sacrifice fly by Sam Crawford, the Chicago White Sox hammered out a victory over the New York Giants here today in the eighth inning by bunting a double, single, triple and two singles for three runs which gave the American Leaguers the game by a score of 6 to 4. Wiltse and Laverenz were the opposing pitchers and despite the cold both managers allowed the hurlers to go the full route. The score:

White Sox . . . 100 101 03—6 10 2
Giants . . . 000 030 001—4 7 0

Batteries—Laverenz and Schalk; Wiltse and Wingo. Umpires—Klem and Sheridan.

High Price For Straightness.

One of the most difficult problems in practical mechanics is to make a straight edge. How difficult it is may be judged from an incident that occurred in the shop of a celebrated astronomical instrument maker.

A patron asked what would be the price of "a perfect straight edge of glass thirty-six inches long."

"It cannot be made perfect," said the instrument maker, "but it could probably be made with a limit of error amounting to only a fraction of a wave length of light."

"How much would that cost?"

"About $40,000."

It turned out that the customer wanted the straight edge for a scraper and that an error of one sixty-fourth of an inch would not bother him.—St. Louis Republic.

Printing unpopular in Persia. Type printing is unpopular in Persia. The straightness of the lines offends the Persian's artistic sense, and he feels that in printed books the character of the letters is lost. Persia is today entirely dependent upon lithography for its own production of books. Naturally these are very rare. At the beginning of the nineteenth century a press with movable types was set up in Tabriz, and a certain number of books were printed. The effort met with no encouragement, however, and had shortly to be abandoned. The same taste which makes a Persian esteem so highly the great calligraphists makes him deplore the absence of character in a type printed book. What most delights him is well written manuscript, and he takes the same delight in the copyist's work that we take in an old master. Failing this, he contents himself with a lithograph, which is usually a facsimile of the writing of some fairly good scribe.

A Wandering Scot's Tribulations.

A Glasgow man who recently took up residence in London, says the Glasgow News, selected from the people answering his advertisement for rooms a landlady boasting the name of Mac-kay. That name, even without the lady's protestations, convinced him that he was going to a "home from home." On arriving, his pleasurable anticipation was increased when he was informed that it was "taken for granted" he would have porridge for breakfast. He was astounded, however, to find the oatmeal served cold and solid and profusely sprinkled with parsley. Something approaching a scene occurred when he intimated to the lady that he required the dish brought hot and fresh and without vegetable embellishment. With a gesture of despair she led him to the kitchen, where on the shelf was a row of bowls containing his weekly supply of parsley decorated porridge!

A Blunder Transformed.

In the "Memoirs of the Prince Imperial," the ill fated heir of Napoleon III., it is related that as the prince grew up he developed royal tact to a marked degree. On one occasion he met the well known author, Alberic Second, and, mistaking him for Marshal Leboeuf, remarked, "I am delighted to shake the hand of a friend of my father." When informed of his mistake and seeing that Second was a little put out over it, he begged M. Flon to find him again and give him this message: "The prince knows he made a mistake, but has nothing to change in his phrase." "I managed to carry out my commission," adds M. Flon, "before many witnesses who, like myself, saw the delight of the amiable writer."

Our Musical Nerves.

Everybody who has been to the dentist's knows only too well that the teeth have nerves connected with them. These nerves lead to certain knots of nerve tissue called ganglia, from which also proceed other nerves that pass to the auditory chambers of the ear. If you grind your teeth ever so slightly you will find that you hear the sound very distinctly. The vibrations caused by grinding are conveyed to the auditory chamber, where a series of pyramidal cells of varying lengths are so arranged as to operate like keys of a piano. These cells, each of which responds to a particular note, are connected by nerve threads, like piano wires, with the main nerve of hearing—a complex and beautiful arrangement to which we owe our power to appreciate the exquisite harmonies of music.

From the church the cortege moved to the city cemetery and on a nearby hill Mr. Freer was laid to rest. The grave was covered with beautiful flowers. The bearers were old schoolmates, Harry Thibert, Ed Shrewsbury, Fred Engelbach, Julius Kraft, Harold Weeks and John Stock.

10 CENT "CASCARITS"

STRAIGHTEN YOU UP

No Sick Headache, Bilious Stomach, Coated Tongue or Constipated Bowels by Morning.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Turn the cascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken.—Adv.

CONCORD.

Mrs. Mary Gaddis is quite indisposed at present.

Rev. Mr. Cain of the M. P. church is holding revival services, assisted by Rev. Mr. Floreth of the M. E. church.

Mr. and Mrs. William Diggins entertained Saturday evening quite a company of young people at their suburban home northeast of Concord, in honor of their daughter, Miss Edith McDermick's birthday. Miss Helen Price of Astoria, Letha Diggins of Jacksonville, Cecil Behler of Abingdon were among the guests present. Games and music and genuine hospitality caused the hours to pass all too quickly and appetizing refreshments regaled the inner man.

Mr. Benjamin Buchanan and two daughters of northwest Missouri, formerly of Pisgah, were here Monday, returning from a visit with Mrs. Ruth Hughes Samples and others there.

Mr. W. P. Smith and daughter returned Monday from Kansas, where she had been to attend the funeral of her sister-in-law, Mrs. McClure.

We are under lasting obligation to our friend, Mr. Elza Harmon, for a pleasant automobile ride from the bank to our place of business, in his new McFarland, which he certainly handles exceptionally well.

Arthur Fairbank of Jacksonville was in Concord Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Yeck and little daughter of Browning visited his parents and other relatives over Sunday.

Perry Leonard, Concord's efficient rural route man, has been laid up for a little while with a heavy cold but is ably represented on the route by his capable substitute.

Samuel Hacker's wife is quite ill at present.

Gladys Smith visited relatives at Carrollton and attended the Greene county fair last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Smith spent Sunday at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rexroat, who also entertained their son William and family of Arenzville.

Miss Emily Jane Allen of Riggston was in Concord Monday going to Jacksonville and from there to Chicago for a few days.

Hon. A. P. Grout of Winchester was in Concord Monday between trains.

Nina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Yeck who has been ill some time, is improving slowly.

Miss Cora Vallery and Mr. Guy McFadden were married in Jacksonville recently and will occupy the James Long property in the Bend until spring, when Mr. and Mrs. McFadden plan to leave the farm and go to try city life and Mr. and Mrs. Guy McFadden will take up their residence there. Their many friends extend congratulations and best wishes for a prosperous and happy married life.

YATESVILLE.

Mrs. Carrie Sheppard of Woodson spent a few days the past week with her sister, Mrs. Charles Baker.

Preaching service at Berea Sunday morning and evening.

Mrs. Lister has been quite sick the past week.

John Young and family of Litterberry spent Sunday here.

Mr. and Mrs. John Salliers of Monticello, Ill., have been visiting relatives here the past week.

We were favored with a light snow Monday.

Gustav Schubert of Ramona, Kan., who formerly resided here, was shaking hands with old friends here last Thursday.

Harrison Robinson is beautifying his tenant house here with a new coat of paint.

James Petefish made a business trip to Jacksonville last Wednesday.

He'll Get the Time Though.

"I suppose you're going to Dr. Maon's funeral, grandpa?"

"Oh," snarled the infirm old man, "don't talk to me about other people's funerals. It's as much as I shall be able to do to get to my own."—London Answers.

Either I will find a way or I will make one.—Sir Philip Sidney.

MARKET LETTERS.

Chicago Live Stock Market.

Oliver S. Green, with Walter Bros. Union Stock Yards, Chicago, reports the estimated receipts for Monday, Oct. 20:

Cattle—18,000.
Hogs—40,000.
Sheep—52,000.

With a moderate run of cattle the trade was in much better shape than last week. Some 4,500 of the supply were western rangers. While yearlings and many weights did not show as much advance as other grades of beef cattle it is well to note that they were in the favorable class last week and did not share in the decline with the bulk of others. Prime Angus yearlings averaging 1009 at $9.60; same as last week's top. Numerous car loads of other yearlings $9.35 to $9.50. One fancy 1481 pound steer at $9.50; $9.35 for 1329 pound steer. Nothing in the car load class of good weights above 9c; $8.75 to $9.00 purchased good to choice 1350 to 1635 pound heaves, with a liberal number of 1050 to 1350 at same figures. Medium to good handy stuff and plain to decent weighty cattle, $8.00 to $8.40; with numerous 1300 pound and bigger plain steers sold down under $8.00. Plain light killing, $7.40 to $7.70, and tallings down to $7.00.

233 head of choice cattle from across the line, shipped by E. H. Nunnally, McLeod, Alberta, at $8.15, and 90 head of 1239 pound heifers from same outfit at $9.40. The bulk of rangers from Montana and Dakota $7.25 took the bulk of good steers, with the light and plainer steers down to $6.50. But little change in market values of western range stuff. Butcher stuff firm to 10c higher for good kinds and little change on others of less beef making quality. Bulls strong to higher; calves unchanged.

The feeder and stocker market under a quiet demand largely steady. Fat cows, $4.75 to $7.25. Heifers, $5.35 to $8.75. Bulls, $5.15 to $7.35. With a fancy yearling at $8.00. Canners and cutters, $3.35 to $4.70.

Common heavy calves to good vealers, $5.00 to $10.00.

Choice to fancy vealers, $10.25 to $10.50.

Inferior stockers to good mixed feeders, $5.50 to $7.00.

Selected light to good weights, $7.10 to $7.25.

Selected 1000 to 1200 pounds, $7.35 to $7.65.

The liberal run of hogs held packers back until late in the forenoon and speculators did not go against the current, and early prices 10c lower; with later sales at 15c lower than early Saturday.

Mixed packing, $7.65 to $7.95. Medium and butchers, $8.00 to $8.25.

Poor to good heavy packing, $7.60 to $7.80.

Rough heavy, $7.20 to $7.55. Select packing and shipping, $7.85 to $8.50.

Light weights, $7.80 to $8.15. Pigs and throwouts, $1.00 to $8.50.

Fat sheep and yearlings 10 to 15c higher. Feeders unchanged. Feeding lambs weak to 10c lower. Top for Montana wethers, 5c.

Native ewes, $3.25 to $4.65. Native yearling wethers, $5.00 to $5.75.

Montana feeding wethers, $4.50. Native lambs, $5.50 to $7.25. Idaho lambs, $6.50 to $7.30.

Oregon feeding lambs, $6.50.

PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell, 1-1/2 miles south of Concord and 2 miles north of Chapin Oct. 26th, 50 head of Poland-China hogs, 25 males and 25 gilts. Free conveyance to and from all trails. Dinner served by ladies of M. E. church. Come and hear the peer of auctioneers.

ENGLAND OBSERVES

TRAFFALGAR DAY.

London, Oct. 21.—The 18th anniversary of the battle of Trafalgar and the death of Lord Nelson was observed today on a scale larger and more impressive than on any occasion since the Navy League first undertook to make the anniversary a day of special significance. The Nelson Column in Trafalgar Square was covered with floral tributes from every part of the empire. Wreaths were also placed on the Nelson monument in St. Paul's Cathedral. A public demonstration was held in Trafalgar Square this afternoon and later the celebration of the day was concluded with a banquet.

ANAEMIC SINCE CHILDHOOD

How Miss Holmes Regained Her Health.

If you are anaemic, you need more iron in your blood, and the tell-tale symptoms are a pale face—colorless lips, ash-colored nails, poor circulation, and short breath, and more serious diseases are easily contracted when in this condition.

What Vinol did for Miss Yvonne Holmes of Fall River, Mass., it will do for every anaemic or run-down person. She says: "I have been weak and anaemic since childhood, always had 'that tired feeling.' Tonic after tonic was tried with little or no result until Vinol was recommended, and after taking three bottles, my appetite and digestion have been improved. I do not suffer any more from insomnia, nor do I have distressing headaches as formerly, and I am stronger than I have been for years."

We ask every anaemic or run-down weak person in this vicinity to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not do all we claim. Lee P. Elliott, Druggist, Jacksonville, Ill. P. S.—Eczema Sufferers! We guarantee our new skin remedy, Saxe.

RAILROAD NOTES.

J. M. Perryman, traveling freight agent for the Illinois Central was calling on local officials yesterday.

Stork and Cupid Cunning Plotters

Many a New Home will Have a Little Sunbeam to Brighten it.

There is usually a certain degree of dread in every woman's mind as to the probable pain, distress and danger of child-birth. But, thanks to a most remarkable remedy known as Mother's Friend, all fear is banished and the period is one of unbounded, joyful anticipation.

Mother's Friend is used externally. It is a most penetrating application, makes the muscles of the stomach and abdomen pliant so they expand easily and naturally without pain, without distress and with none of that peculiar nausea, nervousness and other symptoms that tend to weaken the prospective mother. Thus Cupid and the stork are held up to veneration; they are rated as cunning plotters to herald the coming of a little sunbeam to gladden the hearts and brighten the homes of a host of happy families.

There are thousands of women who have used Mother's Friend, and thus know from experience that it is one of our greatest contributions to healthy, happy motherhood. It is sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle, and is especially recommended as a preventive of caking breasts and all other such distresses.

Write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 131 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their very valuable book to expectant mothers. Get a bottle of Mother's Friend today.

There is a wealth of instruction and comfort to be derived in reading this little book. It is plainly written, just what every woman wants to know, and will be a splendid little textbook for guidance, not only for yourself, but will make you helpful to others. And, in the meantime, do not fail to get a bottle of Mother's Friend at the drug store, and thus fortify yourself against any and all pain and discomfort.

Perilous Chewing.
One of the troubles of most European armies is that those soldiers who can get hold of it insist on using that terrible explosive cordite as if it were a sort of chewing gum. Its popularity is due to the fact that when chewed in small quantities it has a stimulating and exhilarating effect, like small doses of alcohol. Its taste, too, is sweet, cordite being three-fifths nitroglycerin, an explosive which is sugary to the taste. When chewed in large quantities cordite becomes more powerful in its effects, bringing on a blissful state of ecstasy and sometimes making the victim of the habit see visions.
But the real danger of the habit lies in the fact that though nitroglycerin will only explode when given a very hard blow or touched by an electric spark, there is always a possibility that the grinding of exceptionally hard teeth might provide the necessary hard blow.
Within the last few years at least three soldiers—two German and one Austrian—have been blown to bits, the use of cordite as a chewing gum being the suspected cause.

STREET EXPERIENCES OUTBURST OF STRENGTH

STOCKS RAISE BUOYANTLY SOME EIGHT POINTS.

Amount of Business in First Hour's Trading is Nearly as Great as
Total For Monday's Session—Bad
Day For Bears.

(By Associated Press)

New York, Oct. 21.—Stocks rose buoyantly today. Not for weeks had the street seen such an outburst of strength. Leading shares gained from 2 to 4 points, with advances as much as 8 points in exceptional cases. The amount of business in the first hour's trading was nearly as great as the total for yesterday's session. It was a bad day for the bears. The advance was achieved largely at their expense for short covering was responsible for the heaviest buying, especially in steel and Union Pacific.

The sharp rise in American stocks in London gave the market its first impulse upward and created alarm among the shorts. The upward movement was accelerated by news from Washington that the interstate commerce commission had approved an increase in certain freight rates in the Missouri river district. Traders made of this decision a market factor for first importance. Further reports from Washington that important amendments would be made in the currency bill affecting provisions which have met with hardest opposition, also helped to stimulate the market.

Although there was no further essential change in time rates the tone of the money market was easier, reflecting the improved position of the banks as shown in the last statement and offerings of money here by foreign lenders during the last two days.

VAST AMOUNT OF WATER SHIPPED WITH CORN CROP

Surprising Figures are Given—Government's News Letter to Correspondents.

The Weekly News Letter issued by the United States department of agriculture to crop correspondents gives some interesting and surprising figures on the great waste resulting from the shipment of water in corn each year. The News Letter is received each week by George H. Hall, weather observer at Alexandria, the article referred to is as follows: "In the belief that the enormous quantities of shipping several important staple foods by freight are decidedly wasteful and that this waste in money adds materially to the cost of food, several specialists of the department of agriculture have been conducting investigations into shipping conditions in the United States. As a result of these investigations they are convinced that in several particulars the systems used by United States shippers are far less economical than those employed by foreign shippers, notably Germany. As a result the specialists find, in several instances that food is started on long freight journeys in such condition that heavy freight charges must be paid on elements which have to be taken out of the food at the end of the trip before it can be used as food. One of the heaviest wasted freight items is the freight paid for the transportation of excessive moisture in corn and in potatoes to be used for stock food or for the manufacture of starch. In Germany the culls and faulty potatoes, which in this country are thrown away, are dried so as to remove all excess water and then shipped to various points for stock feed purposes. This practice of drying potatoes for stock feed and uses in the arts has not gained great headway in this country. As a result the culls commonly are thrown away and starch is made from potatoes only when there are excess crops, which make them available at a cheap price which permits of shipment to the factories. Potatoes in their natural state contain upward of 70 per cent of water, which has no special nutritive value. Long shipments of potatoes, therefore, in their natural state are not practicable, whereas the Germans, who have dried out the excessive water, find it practicable to ship the dried product.

Has Bearing on Corn Cost.
The waste water now being shipped in corn in the United States, according to the estimates of the specialists, has a serious bearing on the actual cost of corn, and also is one explanation for the great shortage of cars at the corn shipping seasons. The specialists find, for example, that the American people are paying freight on 436,682 tons of water in shipping their corn from the producing sections to the market. This means that at a time when there is a great shortage of cars there is the equivalent of over 14,556 freight cars of 60,000 pounds capacity loaded with water, which is responsible for the enormous losses resulting from the deterioration of shelled corn before it is finally consumed. Figuring a car length at 40 feet, this means that each year a train 582,240 feet long, or over 110 miles, not counting the locomotives, are engaged in nothing more profitable than hauling water from a few miles up to a thousand miles in the case of corn shipped to the seaboard points from the central corn producing areas. Exactly how much excess freight this represents can not be accurately determined, but as the freight rate on corn is about 1 cent per ton mile, it can be seen that this hauling of useless water in corn adds materially to the cost of the product before it reaches the consumer.

Average Moisture.
A study of the average moisture content from the receipt of corn for Baltimore, Chicago, St. Louis and New Orleans shows that from June to October the average moisture content of corn received ranges from 12.9 to 14.1 per cent. This corn, which has been stored in cribs and allowed to dry out, is therefore, below the moisture content of 15.5 per cent, which is the maximum moisture permitted by the new proposed corn grades for No. 2 corn. During the months from November to April, however, the moisture content ranges from 18.5 to 20.2 per cent on an average for corn, so that all corn received at these great corn markets during the six months contains an average of from 3 to 4.5 per cent more water than is permitted for No. 2 grade corn. This means that in every bushel of corn from 1 1/2 pounds to 2 1/2 pounds of useless water is shipped on the railroads. Using the actual averages of excessive moisture, and disregarding the special shipments where the moisture content may run as high as 27 per cent, the specialists find that the excess water shipped amounts to the equivalent in weight for 15,535,800 bushels of corn.

The presence of this excessive moisture in corn not only adds to the net cost of the corn after it is delivered, but prevents the producer who ships corn over the moisture limit from having his corn graded as grade 2, and consequently compels him to accept a grade 3 or lower, with a corresponding reduction in price for his produce. Moreover, corn with an excessive moisture content is liable to deteriorate in storage. Many corn dealers, therefore, on receipts of the corn have to dry out the excessive moisture 282,622 out the excessive water, although others store the moist corn and do not dry it out until it shows danger of deterioration. They hope to get rid of it in its original condition without the necessity of drying it.

WILL ATTEND STATE CONFERENCE.
Mrs. C. F. Buefle, regent of the D. A. R., and Miss Effie Epler, the former regent, expect to leave this evening for Quincy to attend the state conference of the order which will be held tomorrow and Friday.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF HAIR STOPS FALLING

Girls! Try This! Makes Hair Thick, Glossy, Fluffy, Beautiful—No More Itching Scalp.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—really new hair—growing all over the scalp. A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with a cloth of Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or hair counter and prove that your hair is a pretty and soft as any—it has been neglected, or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Adv.

WOODSON.
The third number of the lecture course will be given in Cotton's hall Monday evening, Oct. 27th. Mr. James H. Shaw of Bloomington will lecture on "Lessons from Lincoln." Be sure and come and bring your friends.

Thursday, Oct. 16th, marked the 80th milestone of Mrs. Charles Jones, who is at the home of her son, Dr. R. R. Jones. The anniversary was fittingly celebrated by her children, who gathered at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Jones. The day was spent in a pleasing manner. At noon an elegant dinner was served. Those present were Mrs. Nannie D. Westover of Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gillham of Riggs, Charles G. Jones and daughter, Miriam, Dr. E. W. Crum and wife of Palmyra, Dr. and Mrs. R. R. Jones and family. Mrs. Jones has been confined to her bed the past three weeks, but is reported as improving. Her friends hope for a speedy recovery.

J. Craigie spent a day last week with relatives at Pleasant Hill. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Vasey, near here, a 10 1/2 pound son, Monday, Oct. 20.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason, Wednesday, Oct. 15th, a son. Miss Helen Beasley of Jacksonville was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Charles Jones and other relatives, Saturday.

R. D. Megginson returned from North Dakota Sunday after a month's stay with relatives and friends there. Ira C. Smith, pastor of the Christian church here, preached at the Kennedy school house Sunday afternoon.

The revival services at the Presbyterian church will continue through this week. The services last week were well attended and much interest is being shown. The sermon to the men only Sunday afternoon was splendid. Next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a sermon for ladies and girls only. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone.

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Sheppard attended the fair at Carrollton Monday.

William Clegg of Murrayville spent Sunday with relatives here.

Dr. G. W. Miller expects to attend Masonic lodge in Springfield a couple of days this week.

School was dismissed last Friday on account of the farmers' institute held in Murrayville. The teachers, Miss Florence Fox and Miss Meda Gallagher, and a number of the pupils attended and report a splendid time.

SCALP TROUBLE FOR OVER TEN YEARS
Small Bunches on Scalp. Itched, Formed Scale. Hair Came Out. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured in Two Months.

208 Harrison St., Elyria, Ohio.

"My case was a scalp trouble. I first noticed small bunches on my scalp which commenced to itch and I would scratch them and in time they got larger, forming a scale or scab with a little pus, and chunks of hair would come out when I would scratch them off. It caused me to lose most of my hair. It became thin and dry and lifeless. I was troubled for over ten years with it until it got so bad I was ashamed to go to a barber to get my hair cut. I tried everything I could get hold of, but received no cure until I commenced using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The way I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment was to wash my scalp twice a day with warm water and Cuticura Soap and rub on the Cuticura Ointment. I received benefit in a couple of weeks and was cured in two months." (Signed) F. J. Busher, Jan. 28, 1913.

Why not have a clear skin, soft white hands, a clean scalp and good hair? It is your birthright. Cuticura Soap with an occasional use of Cuticura Ointment will bring about these coveted conditions in most cases when all else fails. Sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 3¢ p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

"FAINTING BERTHA" TO BE RELEASED.

Hastings, Neb., Oct. 21.—"Fainting Bertha" Liebske, for a number of years a familiar figure in the criminal records of the middle west, will be released from the State insane asylum tomorrow, when her sentence for robbery will have expired. The woman was confined for a time in the state penitentiary at Lincoln, but she gave the officials there so much trouble that doubts were raised as to her sanity and she was transferred to the asylum here. Her sobriquet of "Fainting Bertha" was given her by the police many years ago because of her ability to fall into a genuine swoon whenever she feared arrest or other trouble. She now declares she has picked her last pocket and sincerely intends to follow the straight and narrow path after her release.

Its getting cold, better have an overcoat talk with Garland & Co. They are showing all the new ones.

We point with great pride to the Baldwin line of Pianos as the best in the world.

In this closing sale now going on I am giving the greatest piano values for the money that was ever offered. WHY? Because I a selling pianos of the old reliable Baldwin line at a reduction in price never before equaled on standard pianos.

The Baldwin line is recognized as the greatest manufactured in this country. It is known for its quality and high character and the satisfaction it gives to buyers. That is why I handle it in preference to all others. Every owner of a piano of the Baldwin line (and there are about 200 in this vicinity) is an enthusiastic customer, which is a lasting advertisement that helps to ultimate success. I want you to own a piano of the great Baldwin line.

Price and quality are here, making this the greatest piano buying opportunity ever presented.

A UNIQUE COLLECTION

Old Time Prescription Files Shown In Coover & Shreve's Window

In the window of Coover & Shreve's drug store on the east side of the square is a unique collection of old time prescription files begun in the early 19's by Robert Hockenhuil, druggist. They have the first one he filed and while the name of the doctor is not attached it is an old time document being as far back as 1842. Some idea of the growth of the concern may be had when it is noted that the last prescription is numbered 47,816.

Among the drug stores of those early days were F. E. Dayton & Co. Later and for a long time, Dayton & Adams, then both the old partners went out. Mr. Adams to become cashier of the Central Illinois Banking & Savings Association and Mr. Dayton to go into the packing firm of Billings, Dayton & Co., and later into the drug firm of F. E. Dayton & Co., the other members of the firm being C. B. Black, Rockwell, Adams, John Adams & Co., succeeded Dayton & Adams and Wm. Rockwell that firm and he failed and went to Chicago where he died a few years ago.

Other drug houses were O. J. Dues, Johnson Hatch, Carter, Beesley & Co., Kaiser & Russell, Campbell & Co., Stevenson and others. The latter was on the north side of the square, east part, and for years Ezra J. Dutch was a clerk in it. The firm of Carter, Beesley & Co. was composed of John Carter, whose wife was a sister of the late John Gordon, Mrs. Beesley and Mrs. Charles Jones, B. F. Beesley, afterward cashier of the Jacksonville National bank, John Gordon and John Adams.

Among the early doctors were David Prince, Henry and Hiram K. Jones, Owen M. Long, J. R. Askew, Knight, Bibb, Fisher, Day, Shirey, M. M. L. Reed, Johnson, Simpson, the south part of the county and others. A veteran in the drug trade was also David B. Ayers who had probably almost the first drug store in the place. He was the father of the late bankers, M. P. and A. E. Ayers.

Later Mr. Hockenhuil admitted Dr. Reed as a partner and amusing stories are told of that gentleman. Hardware was added to the stock. Dr. Reed was proverbially careless in business matters and often forgot to charge things. One day he wanted an ax so he took one from the stock and put the money for it in his drawer. A clerk seeing him have the ax assumed the doctor had taken it and forgotten to charge it so he put it on the books. Another seeing it in possession of the doctor did the same thing. It took quite a bit of explanation to clear things up.

A great many reminiscences regarding these old time physicians, most of whom were known to the writer, occur to him and it would be a pleasure to note them were there space. Mrs. Long was a personal friend of General Grant and was a welcome guest at the white house during the incumbency of the famous soldier-statesman.

More than one hundred bags and cases to select from at Garland & Co.

MISSION STUDY CIRCLE MEETS.

Dr. Post Addresses Society on "The Political Situation in Mexico Today."

An unusually interesting meeting of the Mission Study circle of the Congregational church was held Tuesday evening at the residence of L. S. Doane on Grove street, when Dr. R. O. Post, the pastor of the church, gave an address on "The Political Situation in Mexico Today."

Beginning with the earliest known history of the people Dr. Post gave a graphic account of their advancement down through the three centuries of Spanish rule, the rebellion the rule of the French, the revolution through which the people gained their independence and down to the present time. He also told of the present political situation in the country and his address was most instructive. Clement Kirby, son of Captain Kirby, who resides in Brownsville, Texas, told of his home town which is just across the border from Mexico and also told of his dealings with the people. The meeting was quite largely attended and after the regular program a social hour was enjoyed when refreshments were served.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE

See the Styles Your Great Grandmother Wore

A Ten Thousand Dollar Moving Picture Film, three thousand feet in length, portraying by motion photography the styles of the century in contrast with those of today will be shown to our friends and customers.

The title of the film is "Mrs. Carter Worthington's Dilemma." It portrays in an interesting and fascinating way the difficulties that our women friends encounter in their efforts to procure costumes, gowns and tailored suits that meet the approval of those who know style, fit and tailoring.

Mrs. Worthington has an annoying experience in search for a new costume in which to attend The Annual Costume Pageant of the Delaware Society and her trouble is solved by her bosom friend, Mrs. Lila Laskerfield, who has discovered the merits of PRINTZESS.

During the Costume Pageant, we will introduce on film the styles of the last century beginning with the girl of 1800 and proceeding by 10 year periods up to the present day.

The third reel will portray the visit of Mrs. Lila Laskerfield to the home of PRINTZESS and just what she saw while watching the making of a PRINTZESS garment. On the last reel we show a parade of living models, wearing the styles of the season, the very garments that you will see in our department.

Come—be our guest, admission is by ticket only and no children will be admitted unless accompanied by their parents or guardians.

TICKETS ARE GRATIS

and can be obtained only in our garment department. Tickets are now ready for distribution and continue until the seating capacity of the Theatre is exhausted.

Make this a gala occasion, call up your friends, have them meet you in our department—make up a party to attend this Fashion Exhibit in a body, and know what the styles for fall really are.

SEEKS TO LOCATE VETERAN OF THE GREAT WAR.

Capt. Waller Has Letter of Inquiry About John Vail Said To Have Enlisted From Jacksonville.

Capt. J. W. Waller has received the following letter of inquiry which explains itself:
"I am trying to get track of an old soldier by the name of John Vail or to locate his family or heirs. He served in Co. E, 34th Ill. Infantry and at the time of his enlistment he lived at Jacksonville. I would be very grateful to you for any information you can give me as to whether he is still living, or if not for the names and addresses of any of his heirs and relatives. I wish to write them concerning a little property in which I think them interested. If you know nothing of them whatever would you be good enough to give me the names and addresses of any old soldiers of Co. "E," 34th Ill. Infantry that you may know."
Capt. Waller will be glad to hear from any one who may know anything about this veteran.

KILLS LARGE TIMBER WOLF.

C. W. Watson killed a large grey timber wolf Tuesday morning at his home seven miles southeast of the city and brought the animal to town in the afternoon to secure the $5.00 bounty for the killing of wolves offered by the county. Awakened by his dogs, Mr. Watson discovered several of the animals in the drive near his house at 4 o'clock. He shot and wounded one, finding it again and killing it after daylight. The wolves which have been seen at various times southeast of the city number four or five and are thought to have come to this section two years ago when the rivers were frozen over.

THE SEASON'S DISPLAY OF

LACE CURTAINS

EMBRACES AN UNUSUALLY ATTRACTIVE ASSORTMENT FOR EVERY REQUIREMENT.

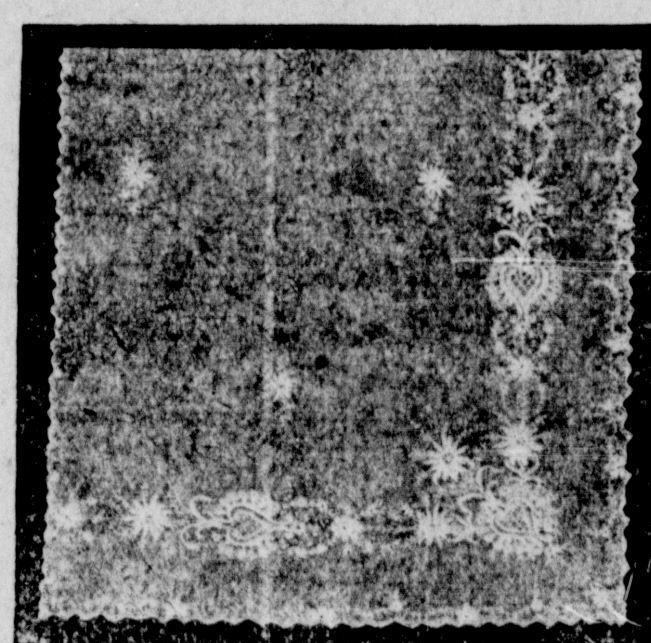

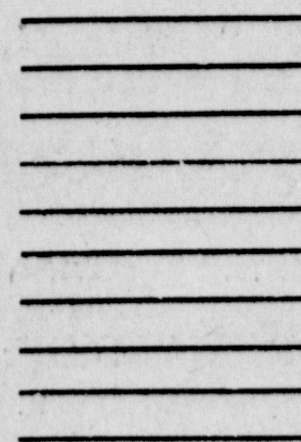

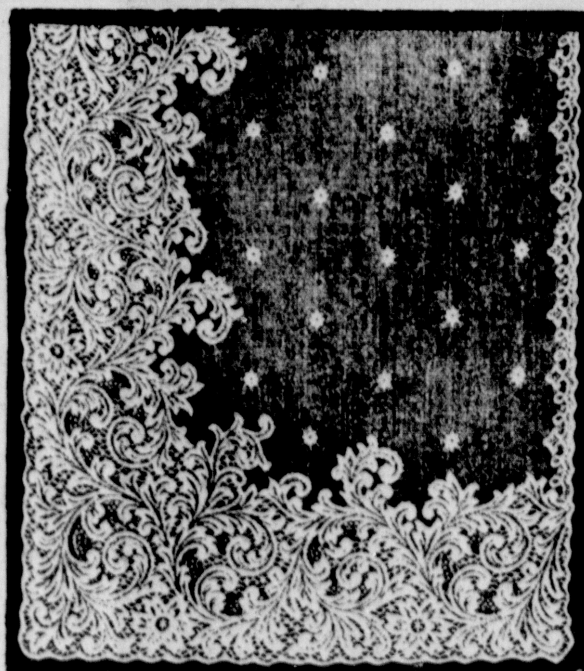

More diversified and in larger assortments than any previous season are the styles of Lace Curtains shown for this season's selling. In fact, there are scores of patterns in the various styles at almost any price limit you may wish to name, from $1.50 up to $25 a pair, a few of which we list for your perusal, as follows:

ARABIAN LACE CURTAINS—Which are so particularly adapted for use where overhangings are used because of their rich lace edge. A very large variety of patterns mounted on double French cable Net, the outside edge taped to keep the net from stretching when laundered. Prices range from $3.50 to $25 a pair.

BRUSSELS LACE CURTAINS—Which have always been considered among the choice styles are particularly good this season. We are showing an entire new line of most attractive patterns, ranging in price from $5.00 to $15.00 a pair.

MARQUETTE AND ETAMINE CURTAINS—Perhaps the most popular style of curtains because of the splendid wearing qualities of these materials, and of their adaptability to combine with various laces, motifs and embroideries. Hand drawn work is also used to a great extent on these curtains, producing the greatest range of patterns and prices of any of the styles shown, commencing at $2.25 up to $15 a pair.

CURTAINS OF ENGLISH AND FILET ALL-OVER NETS—With linen lace edges, a very wide assortment of patterns of both large and small figures in lacey designs, block patterns, etc., ranging in price from $1.75 to $10.00 a pair.

CURTAIN MATERIALS BY THE YARD

ENGLISH FILET NETS—Ranging in price from 35c to $2.50 a yard.

GRENADES which are so desirable for the wide crossed curtains, in a most attractive line of new patterns.

ETAMINES AND MARQUETTES—Both plain and fancy weaves, from 25 to 50c a yard.

SCOTCH MADRAS—A very large assortment of patterns in both white and natural, 25c to $1.50 a yard.

DOMESTIC SCOTCH MUSLINS—Scores of new designs for the making of both flat and ruffled muslin curtains, at prices ranging from 20 to 50c a yard.
